Our Tiny-Tots Song

572 – Give of Your best to the Master

Praise The Lord

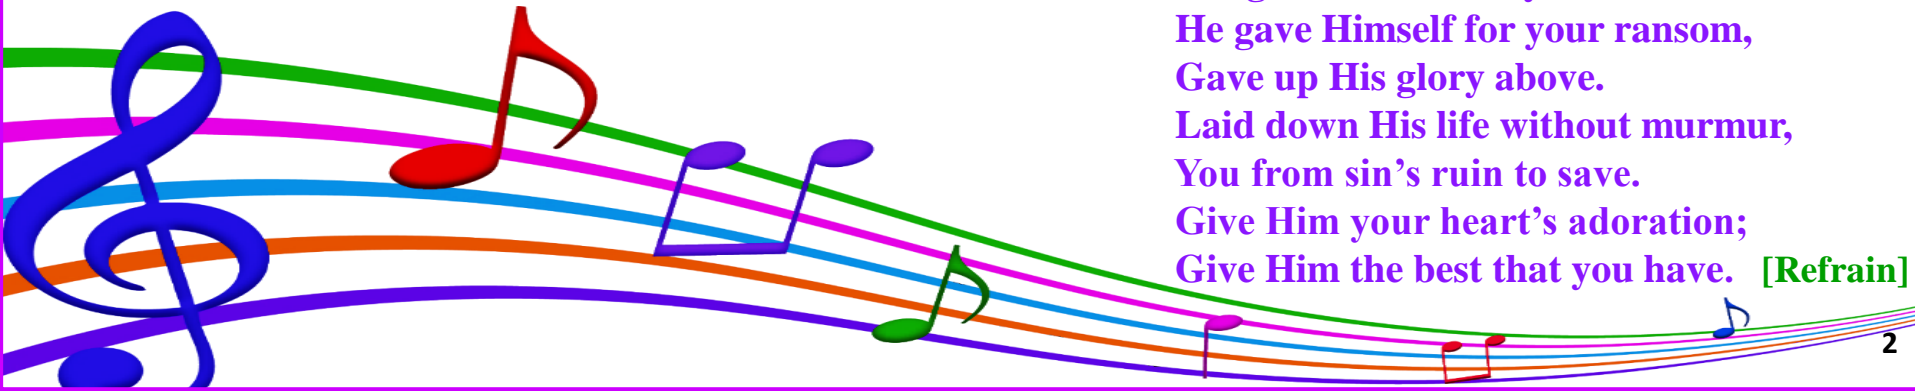

Sing A Joyful Song

1). Give of your best to the Master;
Give of the strength of your youth.
Throw your soul's fresh, glowing ardor
Into the battle for truth.
Jesus has set the example,
Dauntless was He, young and brave.
Give Him your loyal devotion;
Give Him the best that you have.

Refrain: Give of your best to the Master;
Give of the strength of your youth.
Clad in salvation's full armor,
Join in the battle for truth.

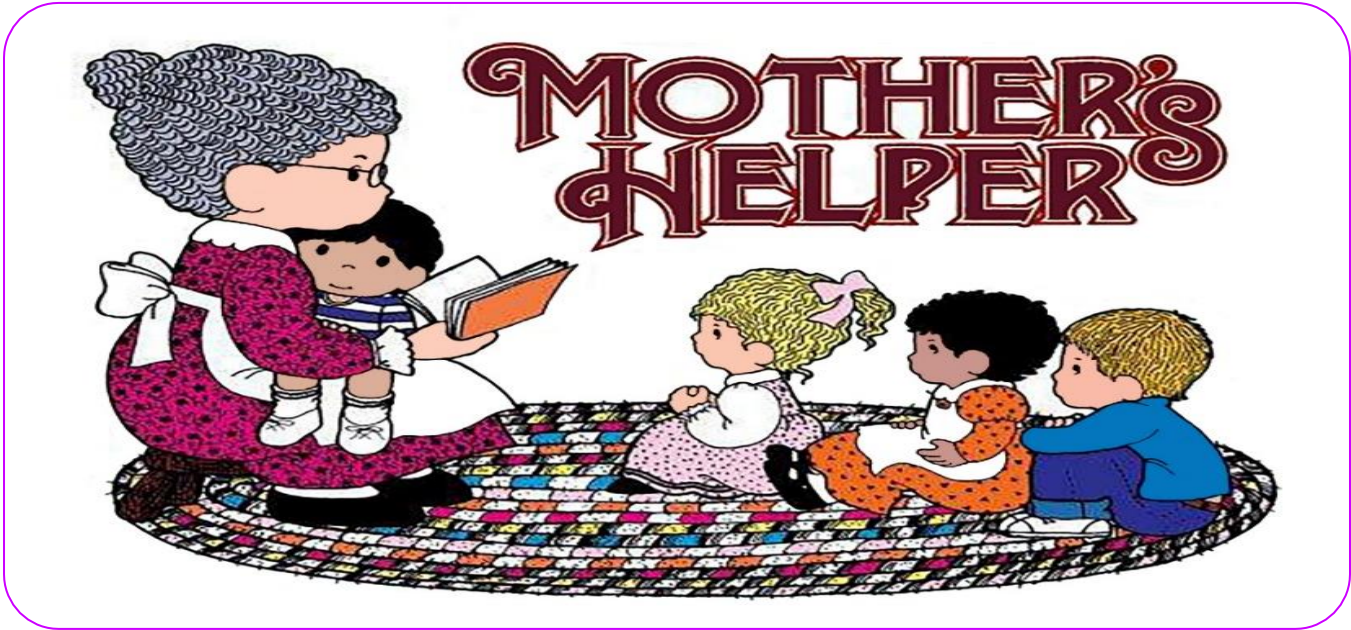

2). Give of your best to the Master;
Give Him first place in your heart.
Give Him first place in your service;
Consecrate every part.
Give, and to you will be given;
God His beloved Son gave.
Gratefully seeking to serve Him,
Give Him the best that you have. [Refrain]

3). Give of your best to the Master;
Naught else is worthy His love.
He gave Himself for your ransom,
Gave up His glory above.
Laid down His life without murmur,
You from sin's ruin to save.
Give Him your heart's adoration;
Give Him the best that you have. [Refrain]

A woman with dark hair and a yellow headband, wearing a red top and a purple skirt, is reading a yellow book titled "THE STORY of JESUS!". She is pointing upwards with her right hand. In the background, two children, a girl and a boy, are sitting on a large purple flower. They are both holding their hands to their ears, as if listening intently. The scene is set in a garden with many purple and white flowers, green leaves, and butterflies. The text is written in a decorative, purple and green font.

Our book selection is entitled,
“The Story of Jesus”
Chapter 18 – Before Annas, Caiaphas, and the Sanhedrin, Part 3

By: [Adapted from EGW material] (1896, 1900)

Narrated by
Our Dear Brother Graves

The Bible verse for our lessons are taken from the book of:
Isaiah 53:7 (KJV)

He was oppressed, and he was afflicted, yet he opened not his mouth:
he is brought as a lamb to the slaughter,
and as a sheep before her shearers is dumb, so he openeth not his mouth.

Matthew 26:63

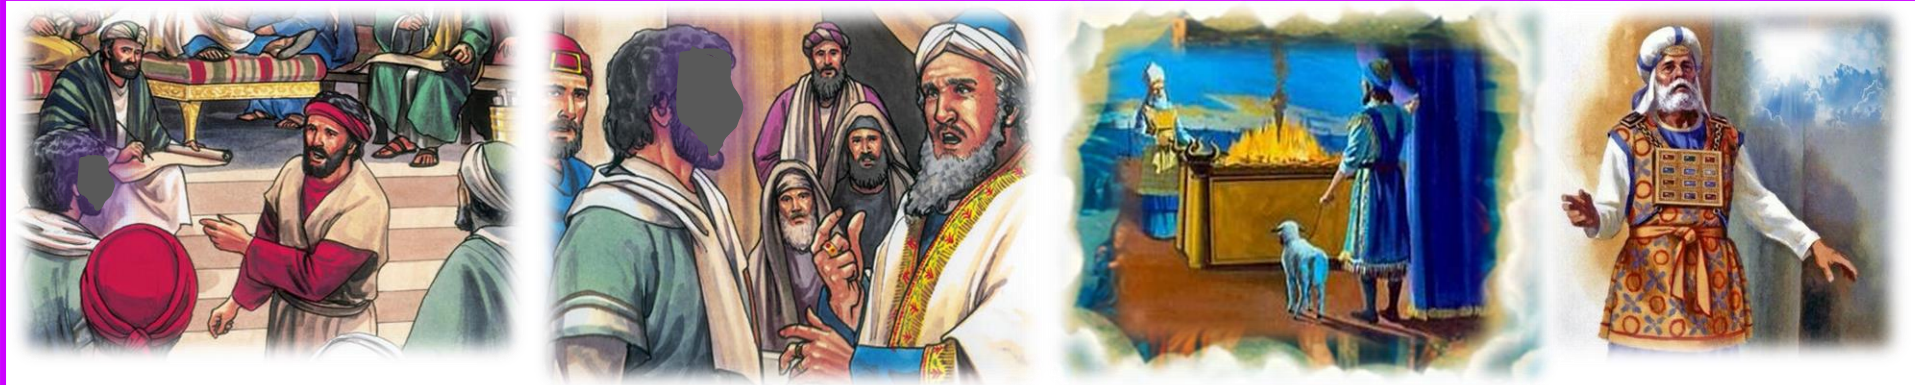

But Jesus held his peace. And the high priest answered and said unto him, I adjure thee by the living God, that thou tell us whether thou be the Christ, the Son of God.

Matthew 26:64

Jesus saith unto him, Thou hast said: nevertheless I say unto you, Hereafter shall ye see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven.

Chapter 18 – “Before Annas, Caiaphas, and the Sanhedrin” Part 3

Continuing: Many charges were brought against Christ, but either the witnesses disagreed, or the evidence was of such a nature that it would not be accepted by the Romans.

They tried to make Him speak in answer to their accusations, but He appeared as if He had not heard them.

The silence of Christ at this time had been thus described by the prophet Isaiah: {SJ 115.3}

“He was oppressed, and He was afflicted, yet He opened not His mouth:
He is brought as a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearers is dumb, so He openeth not His mouth.” Isaiah 53:7. {SJ 115.4}

The priests began to fear that they would fail of obtaining any evidence which they could bring against their prisoner before Pilate. They felt that one last effort must be made.

The high priest raised his right hand toward Heaven, and addressed Jesus in the form of a solemn oath: {SJ 115.5}

(Next Slide)

Continuing: “I adjure Thee by the living God, that Thou tell us whether Thou be the Christ, the son of God.” Matthew 26:63. {SJ 116.1}

The Saviour never denied His mission or His relation to the Father.

He could remain silent to personal insult, but He ever spoke plainly and decidedly when His work or Sonship to God was called in question. {SJ 116.2}

Every ear was bent to listen, and every eye was fixed upon Him as He answered:
“Thou hast said.” {SJ 116.3}

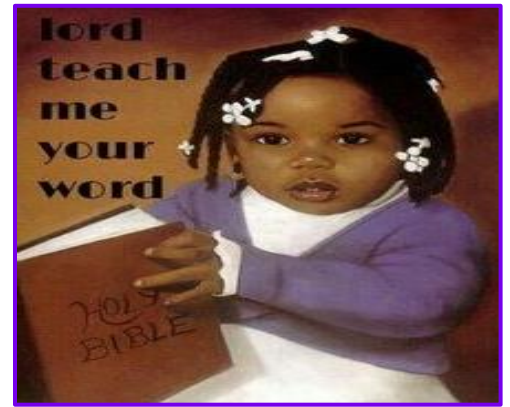

In the custom of those days this was the same as answering, “Yes,” or, “It is as thou hast said.” This was the strongest form of an affirmative answer.

A heavenly light seemed to illuminate the pale countenance of the Saviour as He added: 116.4}

“Nevertheless I say unto you, Hereafter shall ye see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of Heaven.” Matthew 26:64. {SJ 116.5}

Lesson 2 Teach Us to Pray

Matthew Chapter 6 (KJV)

- 6:5 And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites [are]: for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.
- 6:6 But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret; and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly.
- 6:7 But when ye pray, use not vain repetitions, as the heathen [do]: for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking.
- 6:8 Be not ye therefore like unto them: for your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him.

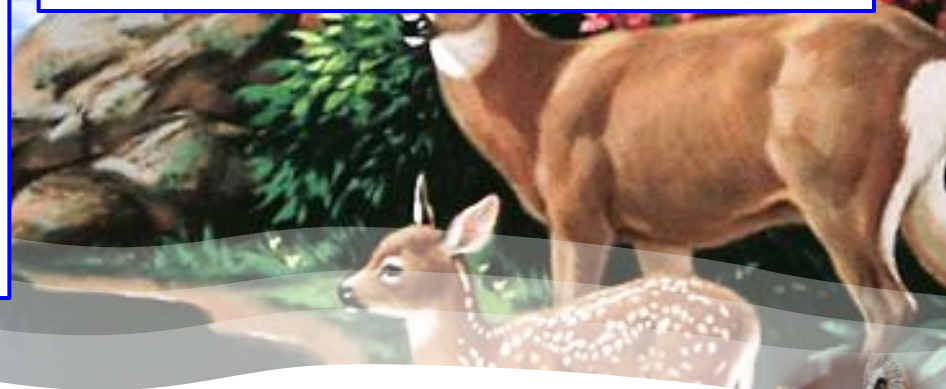

Position of Prayer

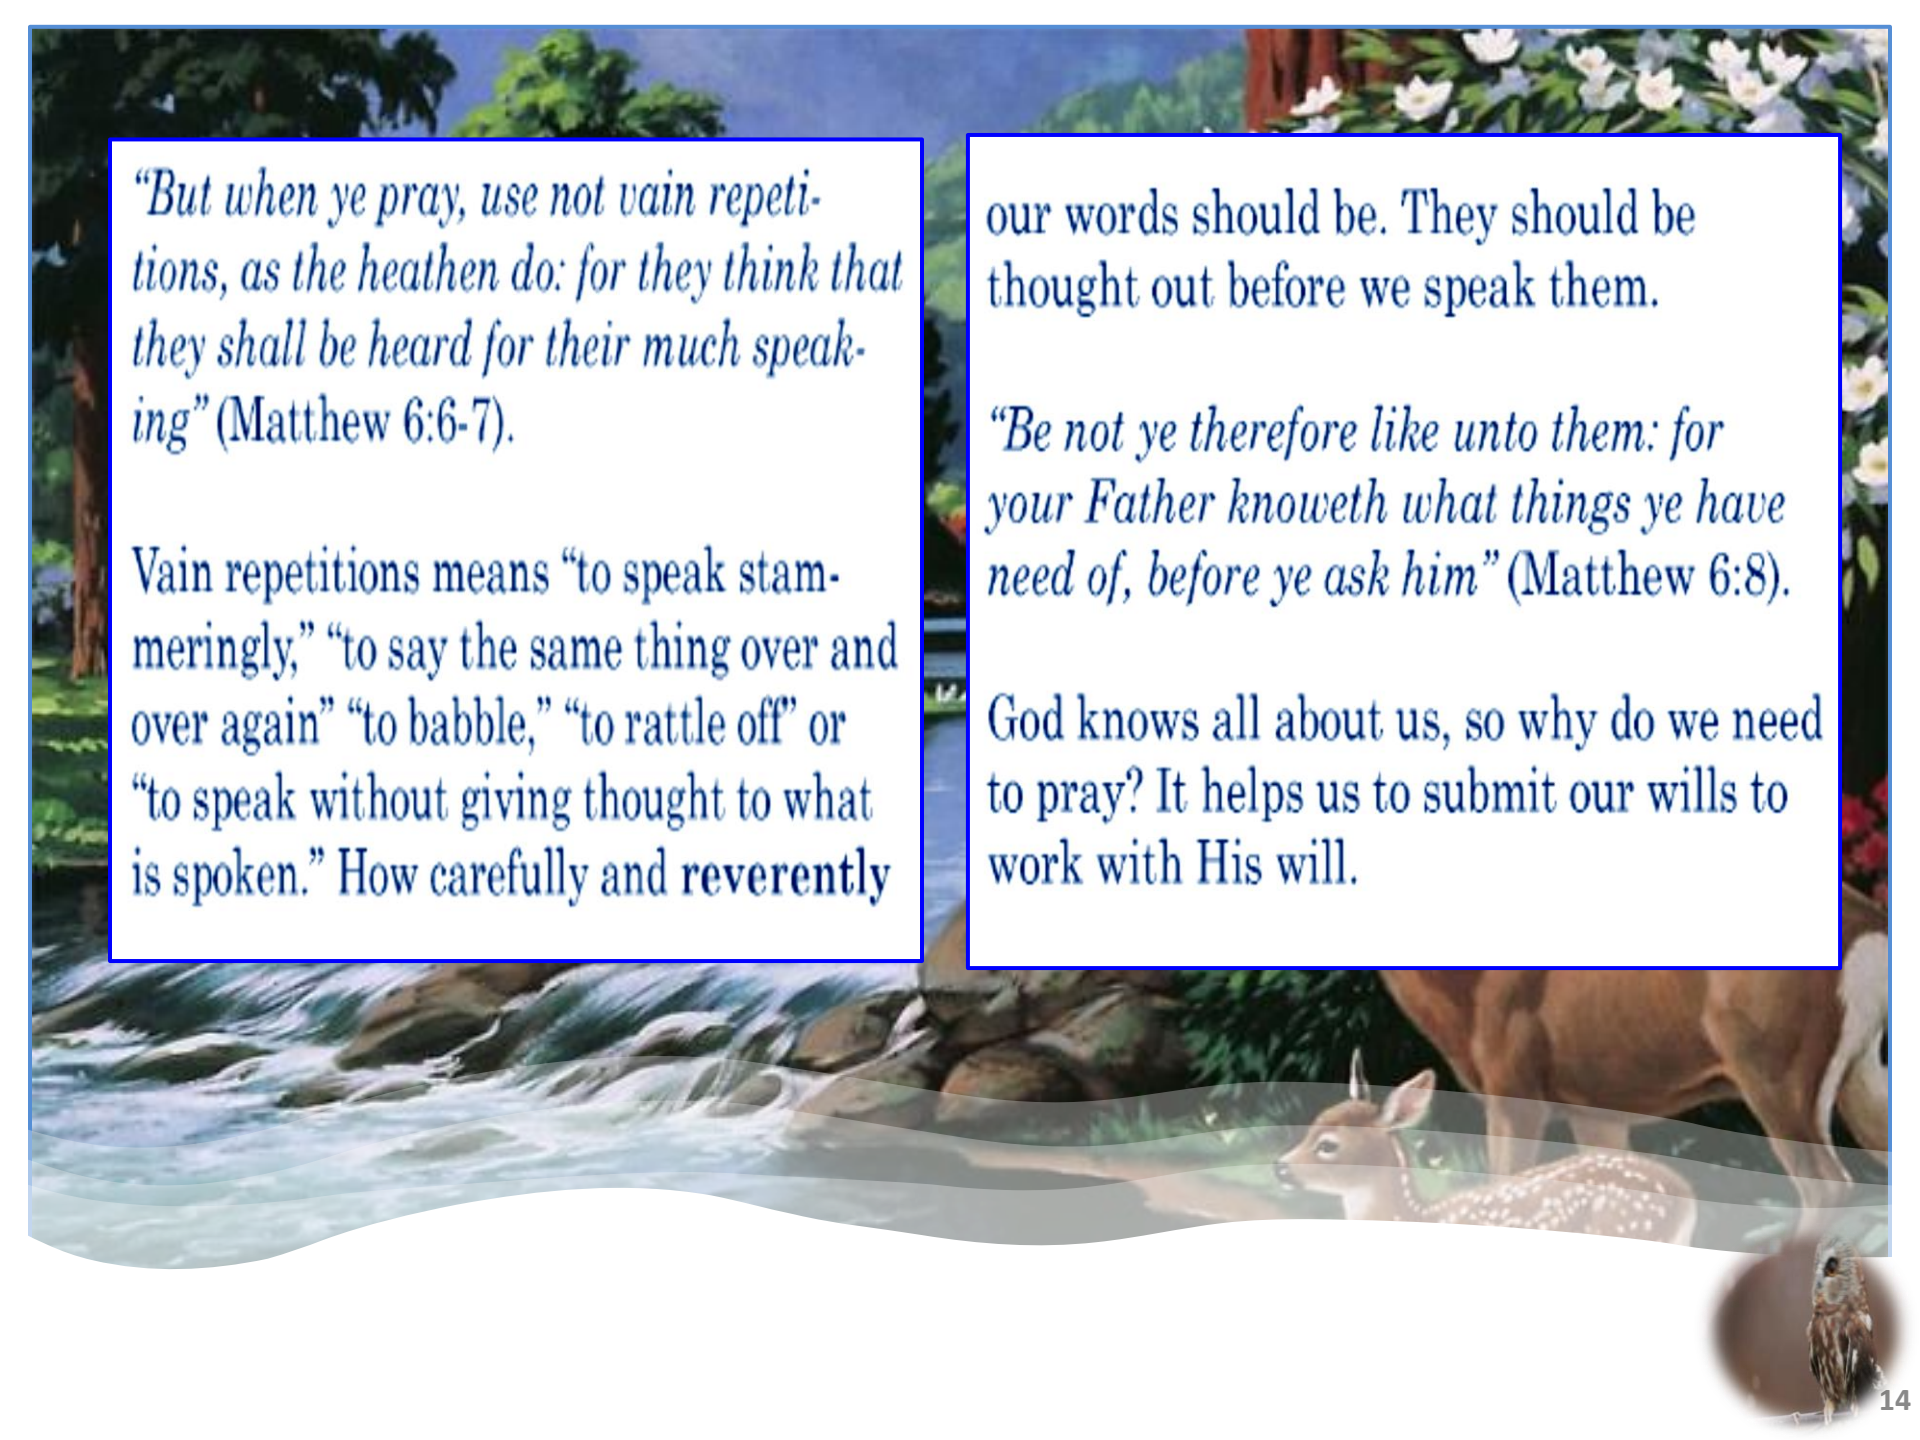

“Where have our brethren obtained the idea that they should stand upon their feet when praying to God?...Do not stand up in your Pharisaism and offer your prayers to God.” (II Selected Messages 311; 314)

“And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are: for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward” (Matthew 6:5).

In Bible times, if the hour of prayer came, and the Pharisee was on the street corner or in the synagogue, he would stand and pray in a loud voice. This caused people to notice him and think he was very religious.

God tells us: “But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret; and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly.”

“But when ye pray, use not vain repetitions, as the heathen do: for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking” (Matthew 6:6-7).

Vain repetitions means “to speak stammeringly,” “to say the same thing over and over again” “to babble,” “to rattle off” or “to speak without giving thought to what is spoken.” How carefully and reverently our words should be. They should be thought out before we speak them.

“Be not ye therefore like unto them: for your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him” (Matthew 6:8).

God knows all about us, so why do we need to pray? It helps us to submit our wills to work with His will.

Kneeling for evening worship.

Reread Matthew 6:5.

In Bible times, if the hour of prayer came, and the Pharisee was on the street corner or in the synagogue, he would stand and pray in a loud voice. This caused people to notice him and think he was very religious.

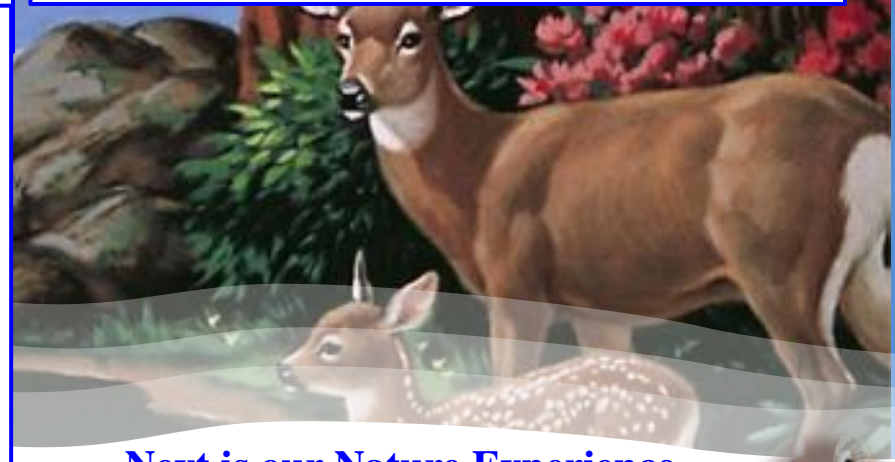

Kneeling helps us to become humble and submit our wills to the Lord. It is important to follow the examples of Christ and the good men in the Bible as to our position in prayer.

“As we talk of Jesus, as we call upon Him in prayer, our confidence that He is our personal, loving Saviour will strengthen, and His character will appear more and more lovely. . . .

We may enjoy rich feasts of love, and as we fully believe that we are His by adoption, we may have a foretaste of heaven. Wait upon the Lord in faith.

The Lord draws out the soul in prayer, and gives us to feel His precious love.”

Review Segment from last Sabbath from our dear families!

Cathartes aura

When one thinks about the bird-life along the coast, they may not immediately consider this large scavenger. But as with any ecosystem, scavengers are an important element to nature's eternal cycle of renewal. The turkey vulture's diet consists only of carrion, so they can be commonly found at the edge of roads feeding on road-kill or picking away at dead marine animals washed up on local beaches. Their large wingspan allows them to float on thermal updrafts without expending much energy. Even at great heights, their superior sense of smell can detect ethyl mercaptan — a gas produced by rotting bodies. Once found, the birds will congregate in the area by large numbers. Their Latin name means "purifier."

Intelligent and curious birds, vultures live and roost in large groups although they will generally forage alone. In terms of reproduction, females will generally lay no more than two eggs which she and the male will take turns caring for. The chicks break out of the eggs in about thirty to forty days and are cared for by their parents for the next eleven weeks. The parents and young will flock together throughout the following fall, then part company permanently.

Range and Habitat

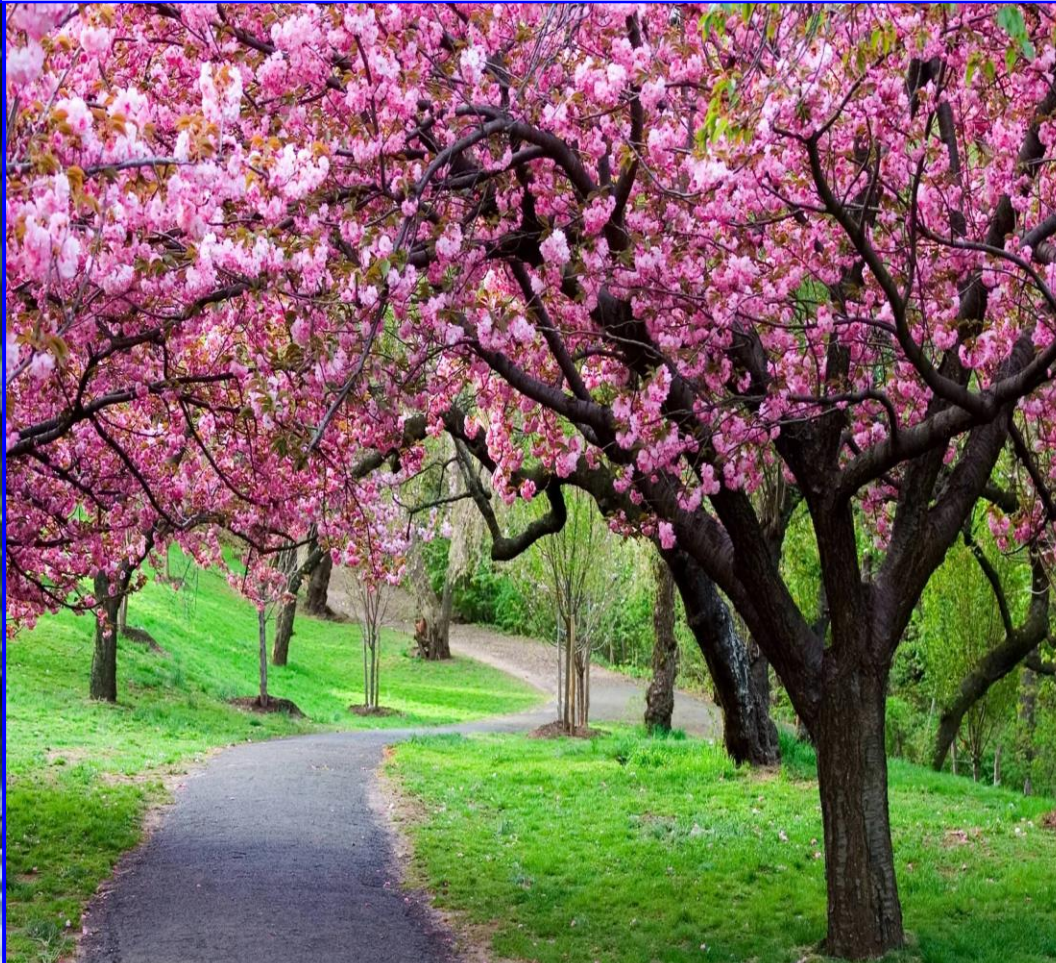

Ranges widely throughout Oregon, across North America as far north as Canada and south to the tip of South America. Roosts are commonly in trees, cliffs, burrows, caves or on tall buildings.

Turkey vulture

“The trees that wave this green banners in the sunlight, and the flowers In their delicate beauty, point to their Creator. The living green that carpets the brown earth tells of God’s care for the humblest of His creatures....”The Ministry of Healing, 411

Cherry Blossom tree and the Bird Cardinal

“They play an accidental, though essential, role in pollination. Both plants and animals are dependent on pollinators.”

<https://www.nps.gov/articles/birds-and-cherry-blossom-trees.htm>

“Cherry blossom trees, or flowering cherry trees, belong to the genus Prunus, which includes not only cherries but also plums, almonds, peaches, and apricots. The genus is part of the Rosaceae family. Many species and cultivars of flowering cherry are used for their blossoms, with Prunus serrulata (Japanese Cherry) being one of the most popular for ornamental use.”

<https://www.gardenia.net/genus/prunus-cherry-blossom-tree>

“Oxalis regnellis or shamrock plant refers to a smaller specimen, which does not often reach over 6 inches. Delicate flowers blossom on and off during spring, winter, and fall.

Its clover-shaped leaves come in a variety of shades. Some people think that these plants bring good luck. The leaves of this plant fold up during the night and then, open up when the light comes back.”

“When you grow oxalis houseplants, their dormant period lasts from some weeks to even three months. Usually, it depends on the growing conditions and cultivar. Once the dormancy breaks, new shoots come up. During that time, you need to move your shamrock houseplants to areas that receive bright light or near a sunny window. Resume to care for the plants to get rewarded with some attractive blooms and foliage.”

Bird Shaped Flower In The Wild

The hummingbird lookalike was first described in the early 1800s. A botanical scientist named Adam Cunningham noticed the unusual plant and recorded its use.

The bird-shaped flower's natural habitat is Northern Australia, although you can find it in Central and West Australia too. This plant loves dry and semi-dry areas. There's been a long debate whether the plant's flowers intentionally evolved to look like birds. This could have been essential to their pollination and survival. Camouflage is nature's number one way to cope with predators. Additionally, the characteristic look raises the flower's value and makes them ideal for trading. Scientists agree that even though the human eyes perceive the flowers as birds' lookalikes, animals don't see them this way. Our brain has a diverse judgment process. As a result, we tend to find resemblances in new shapes.

Plant That Looks Like Hummingbirds – What Is That?
beautiful Australian shrubs shape like a hummingbird

Nature never ceases to amaze us, from fascinating species and colors to a plant that looks like hummingbirds – on a continent that has no hummingbirds!

Due to its unusual flowers, the green bird flower drew the public's attention merely a few years ago. What's even more surprising is the native country of this charming plant. Australia doesn't have hummingbirds yet has a unique plant that looks like a bunch of hummers on a stem!

The plant in question is known as the green flowerbird or regal flowerbird. Crotalaria cunninghamii is the stunning plant's scientific name. It's a member of the legume family that includes chickpeas and alfalfa. The perennial shrub is native to inland northern Australia, where it thrives along sandy dunes. Its ties to Australia are quite ironic, considering that no hummingbirds live there.

Sapphire Tower Super Teal Plant Tree is a Bromeliad

The flowers are variously described as sapphire blue, teal, and tourquise blue-green in color and have bright orange anthers. Bees and hummingbirds are attracted to the flowers by the abundant amount of nectar they produce and the birds sit on the sterile branches between the flowers to feed. The color of the long lasting flowers is very unique in the plant kingdom and makes sapphire tower a focal point the garden. Its drought and heat tolerance and recommend for use in xeriscape.

Puya Alpestris Flowers/Teal Bromeliad is family to the Pineapple

The bee hummingbird, when fully grown, measures about two inches (5 centimeters) and weighs about 1/10 ounce (3 grams). Their nest is the size of half a walnut shell. As the bee hummingbird is very small, so God wants His people to be small in self-serving and large in giving.

The large ostrich is too big to fly while the tiny hummingbird is unsurpassed in the way they can move around, flying forward, backward, upside down, up and down and from side to side.

We, too, need to be strong in knowing God and serving Him while we are growing up, for someday, like the young hummingbirds, we will leave the “nest.” We want to be like Elijah, the widow, and her son and be faithful to God. We will be thankful if we are!

Hummingbirds

We have learned that the hummingbird is the smallest bird, builds the smallest nest, and lays the smallest eggs. The ruby-throated hummingbird’s nest is built high in the branches of the trees. She builds her nest of shreds of bark, soft grass, and bits of plant or cattail fluff. She sometimes covers the outside with lichen or bits of bark. This helps camouflage her nest. God kept Elijah camouflaged so Ahab and Jezebel could not find him. The female lays two tiny eggs about the size of navy beans. The young hatch in about two weeks. The babies have no feathers when hatched, and cannot see. In about three weeks they have their feathers and are strong enough to leave the nest.

Chapter 32 - Proper Attitude in Prayer

2SM - Selected Messages Book 2

“I have received letters questioning me in regard to the proper attitude to be taken by a person offering prayer to the Sovereign of the universe.

Where have our brethren obtained the idea that they should stand upon their feet when praying to God? One who has been educated for about five years in Battle Creek was asked to lead in prayer before Sister White should speak to the people.

But as I beheld him standing upright upon his feet while his lips were about to open in prayer to God, my soul was stirred within me to give him an open rebuke.

Calling him by name, I said, “Get down upon your knees.”

This is the proper position always. {2SM 311.1}

“And he was withdrawn from them about a stone's cast, and kneeled down, and prayed” (Luke 22:41). {2SM 311.2}

“Peter put them all forth, and kneeled down, and prayed; and turning him to the body said, Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes: and when she saw Peter, she sat up”

(Acts 9:40). {2SM 311.3}

“They stoned Stephen, calling upon God, and saying, Lord Jesus, receive my spirit. And he kneeled down, and cried with a loud voice, Lord, lay not this sin to their charge.

And when he had said this, he fell asleep”

(Acts 7:59, 60). {2SM 311.4}

Continuing:

“On Bended Knee

We hope that our brethren will not manifest less reverence and awe as they approach the only true and living God than the heathen manifest for their idol deities, or these people will be our judges in the day of final decision. I would speak to all who occupy the place of teachers in our schools.

Men and women, do not dishonor God by your irreverence and pomposity.

Do not stand up in your Pharisaism and offer your prayers to God. Mistrust your own strength. Depend not in it; but often bow down on your knees before God, and worship Him. {2SM 314.1}

And when you assemble to worship God, be sure and bow your knees before Him.

Let this act testify that the whole soul, body, and spirit are in subjection to the Spirit of truth.

Who have searched the Word closely for examples and direction in this respect?

Whom can we trust as teachers in our schools in America and foreign countries?

After years of study shall students return to their own country with perverted ideas of the respect and honor and reverence that should be given to God, and feel under no obligation to honor the men of gray hairs, the men of experience, the chosen servants of God who have been connected with the work of God through almost all the years of their life? I advise all who attend the schools in America or in any other place, do not catch the spirit of irreverence. Be sure you understand for yourself what kind of education you need, that you may educate others to obtain a fitness of character that will stand the test that is soon to be brought upon all who live upon the earth. Keep company with the soundest Christians.

Choose not the pretentious instructors or pupils, but those who show the deepest piety, those who have a spirit of intelligence in the things of God. {2SM 314.2}

The Desire of Ages, p.770

Continuing:

But the Jewish leaders were unchanged by the events they had witnessed. Their hatred of Jesus had not abated. The darkness that had mantled the earth at the crucifixion was not more dense than that which still enveloped the minds of the priests and rulers. At His birth the star had known Christ, and had guided the wise men to the manger where He lay. The heavenly hosts had known Him, and had sung His praise over the plains of Bethlehem. {Next Slide Please}

Continuing:

The sea had known His voice, and had obeyed His command. Disease and death had recognized His authority, and had yielded to Him their prey. The sun had known Him, and at the sight of His dying anguish, had hidden its face of light. The rocks had known Him, and had shivered into fragments at His cry.

Inanimate nature had known Christ, and had borne witness to His divinity.

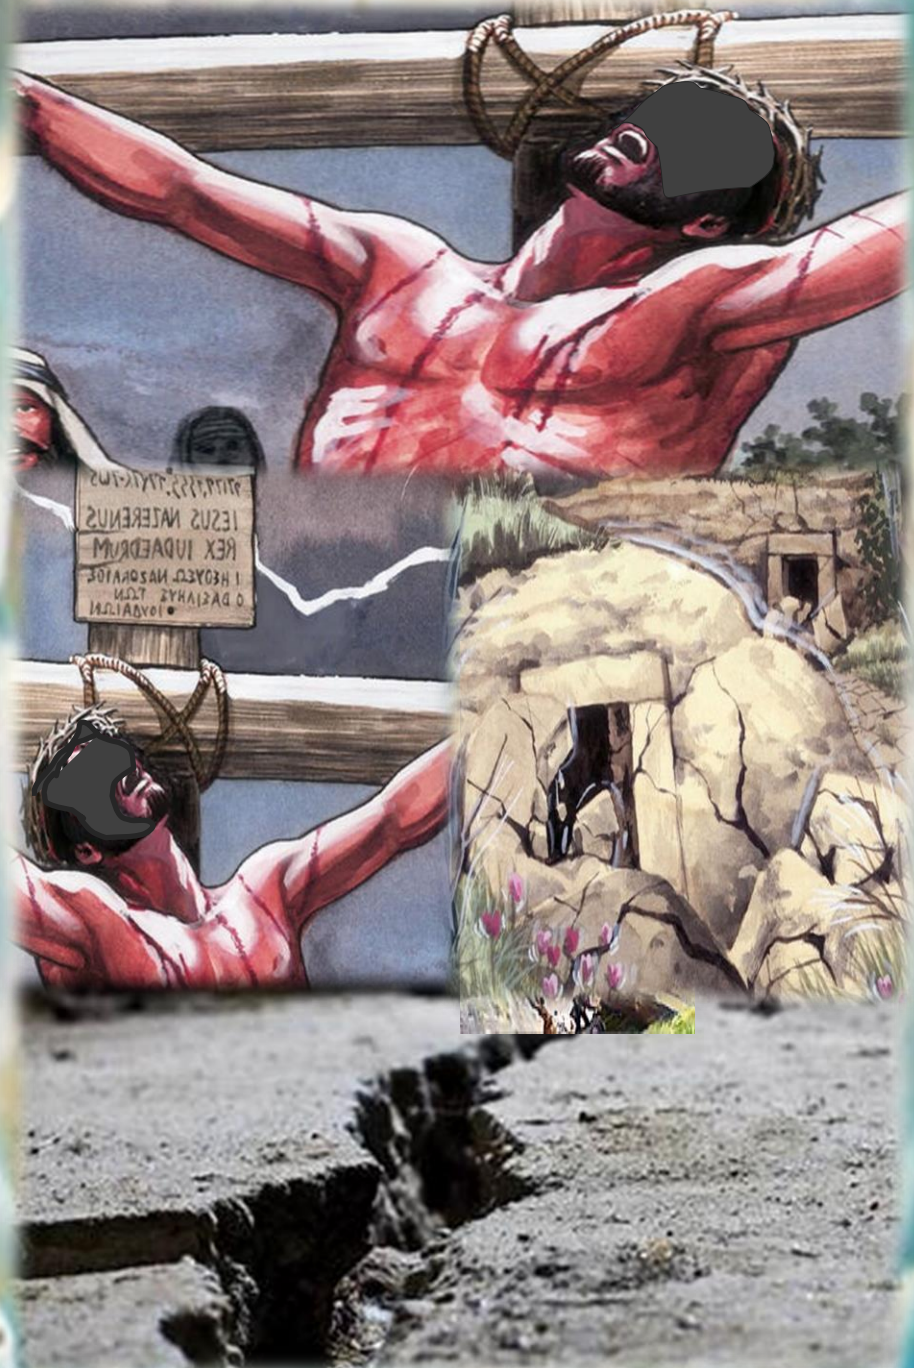

But the priests and rulers of Israel knew not the Son of God.

{DA 770.4}

Yet the priests and rulers were not at rest. They had carried out their purpose in putting Christ to death; but they did not feel the sense of victory they had expected. Even in the hour of their apparent triumph, they were harassed with doubts as to what would next take place. {Next Slide Please}

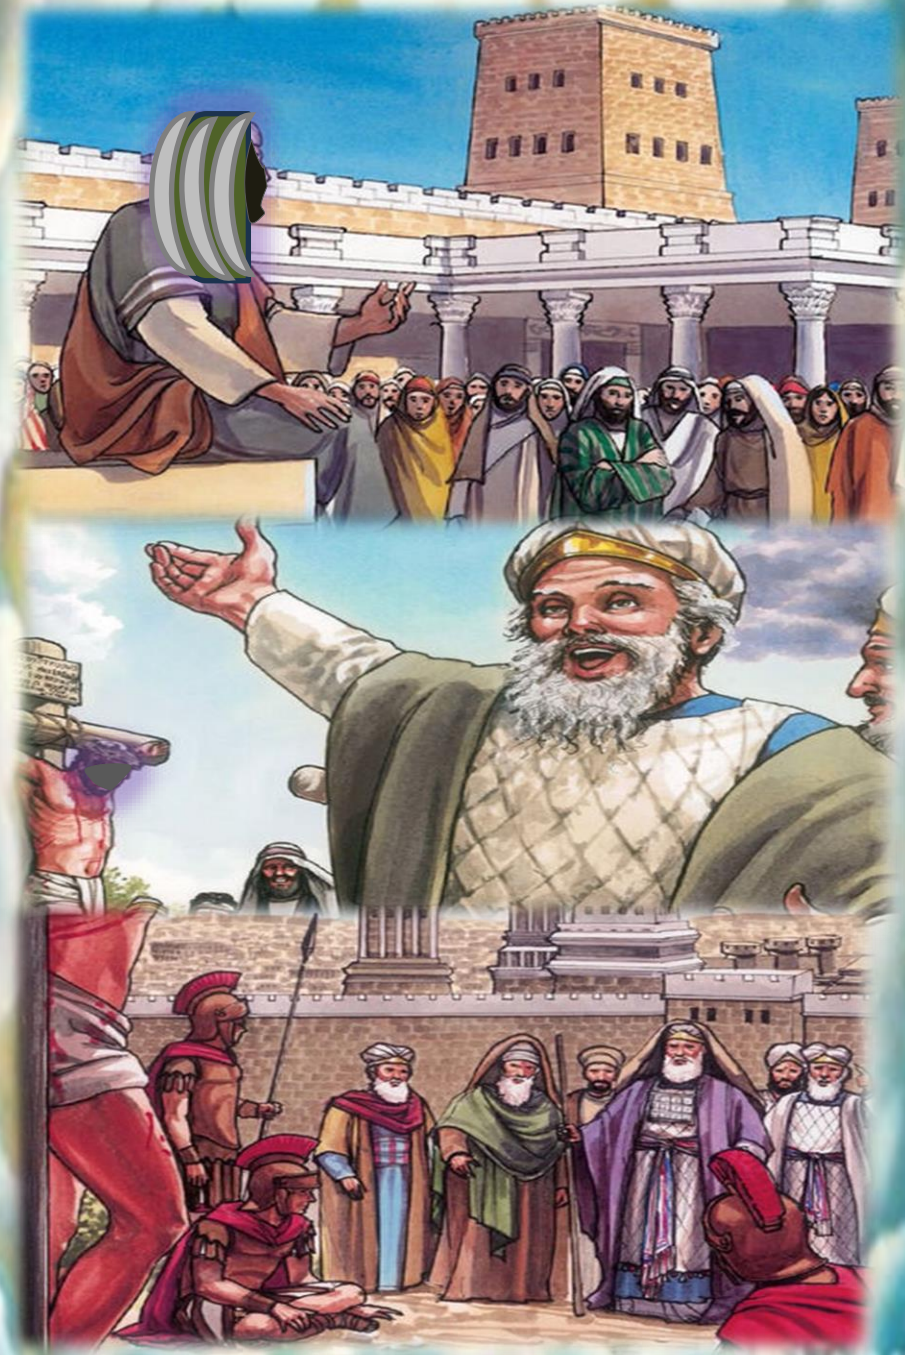

Continuing:
They had heard the cry,
“It is finished.”

“Father,
into Thy hands
I commend My spirit.”

John 19:30;

Luke 23:46.

They had seen the rocks rent,
and had felt
the mighty earthquake,
and they were restless
and uneasy.
{DA 771.1}

They had been jealous of Christ's influence with the people when living; they were jealous of Him even in death. They dreaded the dead Christ more, far more, than they had ever feared the living Christ. They dreaded to have the attention of the people directed any further to the events attending His crucifixion. They feared the results of that day's work. {Next Slide Please}

Continuing:

Not on any account would they have had His body remain on the cross during the Sabbath.

The Sabbath was now drawing on, and it would be a violation of its sanctity for the bodies to hang upon the cross.

So, using this as a pretext, the leading Jews requested Pilate that the death of the victims might be hastened, and their bodies be removed before the setting of the sun.

{DA 771.2}

The Desire of Ages, p.771

Pilate was as unwilling as they for the body of Jesus to remain upon the cross. His consent having been obtained, the legs of the two thieves were broken to hasten their death; but Jesus was found to be already dead. The rude soldiers had been softened by what they had heard and seen of Christ and they were restrained from breaking His limbs. Thus in the offering of the Lamb of God was fulfilled the law of the Passover, “They shall leave none of it unto the morning, nor break any bone of it: according to all the ordinances of the Passover they shall keep it.”

Numbers 9:12 {DA 771.3}

The Desire of Ages, p.771

The priests and rulers were amazed to find that Christ was dead. Death by the cross was a lingering process; it was difficult to determine when life had ceased. It was an unheard-of thing for one to die within six hours of crucifixion. The priests wished to make sure of the death of Jesus, and at their suggestion a soldier thrust a spear into the Saviour's side. {Next Slide Please}

Wherefore the children of Israel shall keep the sabbath, to observe the sabbath throughout their generations, [for] a perpetual covenant.

It [is] a sign between me and the children of Israel for ever:

“In this scripture the observance of the Sabbath is specified as a special, distinguishing sign between God's people and the people of the world. This gives to parents a most solemn work—the work of teaching their children to obey the Sabbath commandment, in order that they may be numbered among the people of God.”

1).

A Are all of God’s commandments kept?
B Beginning with the first;
C Can men say yes, and none except?
D Do they their Maker serve?

4).

M Must man have thus forgotten God,
N Not to keep His holy day?
O Oh! They have in the Papist’s word
P Put trust, and strayed away.

2).

E E’en in this land of Christian light,
F Forgotten is God’s word;
G God spake from Sinai’s rugged height,
H Have ye not often heard?

5).

Q Questioned what God Himself did say,
R Revealed by His own hand,
S Saying that Christ hath put away
T The fourth, the great command.

3).

I In Exodus have you not read,
J Just an He spake it there?
K “Keep thou the Sabbath day,” He said,
L Let’s look and find it there.

6).

U Unchanging are His precepts still,
V Vengeance He soon will take;
W Without a doubt He surely will,
Y Yet they the Sabbath break.

Taken from The Scripture*

John 14:15-17 (KJV) Margin...

If ye love me, keep my commandments.
And I will pray the Father,
and he shall give you another Comforter,
that he may abide with you for ever;
Even the Spirit of truth;
whom the world cannot receive,
because it seeth him not,
neither knoweth him:
but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you,
and shall be in you.
and shall be in you.

Have a Blessed and Peaceful Sabbath!

Isaiah 33:6 (KJV)

And wisdom and knowledge shall be the stability of thy times,
[and] strength of salvation:
the fear of the LORD [is] his treasure.

“Here is the only safeguard for individual integrity,
for the purity of the home,
the well-being of society, or the stability of the nation.

Amidst all life's perplexities and dangers and conflicting claims, the one safe and sure rule is to do what God says.

“The statutes of the Lord are right,” and "he that doeth these things shall never be moved.” Psalm 19:8; 15:5.
